

SPORTS

Women's soccer lose heartbreaker 2-1 to Virginia in NCAAs

“I’m disappointed, because I really think we would go a little further, and I think that most of the team did. But, you know, the draw was difficult, and Virginia was a great opponent,”

Head Coach Sean Driscoll

Despite a goal in the sixth minute from Pietra Tordin, women's soccer lost in the first round of the NCAA Tournament to No. 4 Virginia, officially putting an end to the season.

A group of female soccer players in a huddle. They are wearing various colored jerseys, including blue, orange, and grey. One player in an orange jersey has the number 26 on her back. The background is blurred, showing more players and the field.

“When I look back on the season, there’re so many highs, you know. I got my 100th win with this team, that’ll be something I’ll always treasure. I’ll never forget that moment.”

Head Coach Sean Driscoll

